

David & Goliath: CWA vs. the Left-Wing Giants

The truth behind the vast wealth of anti-family groups and how they buy their influence

As they say, “money talks.” And based on last November’s election results, liberal extremists were running their mouths a mile a minute.

The results highlight the stark contrast between dollar amounts spent on leftist causes and the relatively modest funds available for pro-family advocacy.

Pro-abortion militants have an enormous amount of wealth behind them. Planned Parenthood alone has pockets that are $882 million deep, and they aren't shy about using this money to help radical leftist candidates get elected to office.

The David-like resources of CWA

Consider for a moment that Concerned Women for America (CWA) has an annual budget of roughly $10 million. We are dedicated to pro-family positions on six core issues. Defending the sanctity of life is one issue. Protecting traditional marriage and countering the homosexual agenda is another.

Though it's not always the case, one can conclude that roughly one-sixth – or $1.7 million – can be spent to defend life.

Another sixth, or $1.7 million, could be used to counter radical homosexual activism (figures are rounded up).

The left's Goliath mountain of money

Now consider the annual expenditures for just two of the hundreds of liberal activist organizations in the country: The deceptively-named Human Rights Campaign (HRC), solely dedicated to furthering the radical homosexual agenda and Planned Parenthood, committed to ensuring that women maintain the phantom “right” to snuff out the lives of their unborn children. These organizations engage in single issue advocacy and are tirelessly devoted to just one left-wing cause each.

So here are the numbers, and make sure you’re sitting down. According to their own tax records, HRC spent more than $39 million in 2005 alone to promote the homosexual agenda. In a head-to-head with CWA on this issue, that’s an average of almost 23-to-1 in spending per year.

Forget sitting. You’d better lie down for this one. Again, according to internal tax records, Planned Parenthood spent an unfathomable $882 million to promote and assist in the killing of unborn children in 2005. Planned Parenthood alone outspent CWA by a mind-boggling 518-to-1 on the abortion issue with both tragic and deadly results.

Liberals’ deep pockets buy influence

Last year liberal groups spent unprecedented sums to get radical, left-wing candidates elected to office.

Take, for example, the U.S. Senate race in Pennsylvania. Bob Casey (D), heavily-funded by HRC, was able to defeat conservative incumbent Sen. Rick Santorum (R).

HRC alone raised an astounding half-million dollars for Casey. And this does not include the $100,000 spent for its local door-to-door campaign. During his run, Casey touted conservative principles and downplayed HRC’s backing.

But, make no mistake, HRC did not spend its money in vain. Its support came with strings attached.

The day after the election, and to the dismay of his conservative sup-

Planned Giving at Concerned Women for America

Planned giving may allow you to make gifts to Concerned Women for America that you only dreamed were possible. Many of the vehicles available can be tailored to your goals and enhance your overall financial plans. The most popular giving options include:

- charitable gift annuities
- bequests
- gifts through retirement plans
- life insurance or real estate

For more information on these or other planned giving options, contact Elisa Sumanski, toll-free, at (800) 458-8797 or email plannedgiving@cwfa.org.

Activists at Human Rights Campaign misleadingly tout the "equal" symbol while they push for an anti-Christian, homosexual agenda. HRC radicals and their massive wealth played a big role in defeating conservative champion Senator Rick Santorum in November's election.

when older and stronger men were scared. God used this for His glory – there can be no doubt that God is at work when a giant like Goliath is defeated by a simple shepherd boy.

We rely not on our strength, but on His. We should never underestimate the enemy, but can always know that God is stronger still. And like David, let's stand up and do our part for the glory of God.

porters, Casey announced, "HRC got behind my campaign early and has been a tremendous help. I look forward to working with HRC's incredible staff and membership."

If money talks, the left is shouting

Like an indentured servant, Casey has a debt to pay. It won't be repaid dollar for dollar, but through implementing HRC's radical social agenda – an agenda that runs counter to the values of the very people who voted Casey into office.

They say that money makes the world go 'round. Regrettably, with the massive bankroll enjoyed by many liberal activist groups – for the time being, it's spinning hard left.

When the enemy is strongest, God's glory shines brightest

We all know how the Biblical story ends. A young boy was willing to fight

By Lindsay Randall, Deputy Press Secretary with Matt Barber, Policy Director for Cultural Issues, contributing ■

PRAY

Ask God to work in the hearts of those who've fallen victim to the lies of homosexual activists and the abortion lobby. May He open their hearts to His truth.

PRAISE

Thank God for the example He gives us in the story of David and Goliath, which reminds us that no enemy is strong enough to stand up to our God.

ACT

Consider partnering with CWA by making a generous contribution so that, like David, we might conquer the giants who would seek to undermine His will.